

MONTGOMERY NEWS

Montgomery Primary School | Friday 16th June 2017

As a school family we have really pulled together this week and again, our thoughts are with Alison's family. We have had parents asking about collections but we are awaiting further details about funeral arrangements etc., before we do anything. I know that the EYFS children and staff are putting together ideas about a longer lasting tribute as a school and we will let you know about this in due course.

On a different note, the date of the first parents forum is Tuesday 4th July at 9.30am and Thursday 6th July at 5pm. I am trialling two different times in order to help parents attend. The theme will be around staffing and the school improvement plan for next year. I will confirm details of the format nearer the time.
